CONCEPT NOTE

Gender Equity refers to equal treatment of men and women based on their individual needs. This involves equal treatment or differential treatment that is deemed equivalent in terms of rights, benefits, obligations, and opportunities. If gender equality is the goal, then gender equity is the way to get there. Gender equality does not mean that women and men will become equal, but it does imply that women and men's rights, duties, and opportunities will not be contingent on whether they are born male or female. Gender equity focuses on fairness and justice in terms of individual benefits and needs. In the education, health, and humanitarian sectors, equity refers to the equitable distribution of resources based on the needs of various groups of people. In this context, gender equality refers to the necessity for a gender analysis of these demands, since they may differ in many ways for men and women, boys and girls.

The webinar will address but not be limited to the following Sub-Themes:

- # Conceptual difference between Gender Equity and Gender Equality
- # The relevance of Gender Equity in the Indian society
- # Ways to sensitise the youth on Gender Equity
- # Government policies on Gender Equity
- # Gender Equity in educational campuses
